Mathias assumes Bi-State leadership

Manuel De La O, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, announced Thursday he was resigning effective Sept. 20 after a tenure of three years and three months. De La O, who became executive director June 4, 1982, cited differences in management philosophies between himself and the Bi-State board of commissioners as the reason for his resignation.

Board Chairman Carl E. Mathias of Granite City will fulfill the duties of the executive director's position on an interim basis while a search is made for a new executive director. He is assistant vice president of Illinois Power Co.

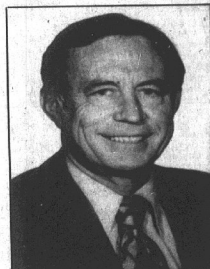

MATHIAS, a past president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, is president of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois and has been active in economic development efforts.

De La O met briefly with managers of the agency prior to the public announcement, and thanked them and all Bi-State employees for their support and performance.

He asked that they "continue to strive for excellence" in serving the community and in economic development activities.

AT A PRESS conference, De La O commented he "was the seventh director in a six-year period, but remained in the position longer than anyone in recent history."

He mentioned some of the problems encountered in the past and said most have been solved, leading to many accomplishments and improvements.

Events cited in 1985 included restructuring of Granite City area bus routes, the start of construction of a new parallel runway at Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia, port promotional work, opening of an Illinois bus garage, continued progress toward establishing a light-railroad system, changing of transit work rules, passage of a Missouri transportation sales tax, good cooperation with Illinois counties, and a 2.5 percent increase in Bi-State bus ridership over the previous year.

Kenneth A. "Buzz" Shaw, chancellor of Southern Illinois University, has accepted the presidency of the University of Wisconsin system, effective Feb. 1, 1986, according to a statement issued Friday by Dr. Ben Lawton, president of the Wisconsin systems' Board of Regents.

Shaw, 46, was the first chancellor of the SIU system and was appointed in 1979 when the position was created by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Prior to assuming the chancellorship, he served three years as president of the Edwardsville campus of SIU.

The Wisconsin system includes 26 campuses and 126,000 students, one of the largest university systems in the nation.

Coordinator makes downtown priority

GRANITE CITY—A neighborhood restoration enthusiast and former high school teacher hopes his knowledge will put the city's business district back on its feet.

Alan Ortbals, the newly named city coordinator, will start his plan for the city on Oct. 7.

A native St. Louisan, Ortbals admits his knowledge about Granite City had been lacking up to about four weeks ago, when he ventured his first trip here to interview for his position.

ORTBALSAID that, after the interview, he spent a couple of hours driving around the city.

"I know I have a lot of work to do, but I can't wait to get started," he said.

"The people here are all on the same team—they want the business district and the physical makeup of the area to improve. It's going to be a pleasure working for the city because I won't have to battle with anyone to get things accomplished."

Ortbals, who started out with a psychology degree, said he first became interested in home rehabilitation when he was a teacher at DuBourg High School St. Louis.

"A LOT of instructors at the high school had purchased property in the Shaw neighborhood and were teachers full-time and 'rehabbers' part-time," he said. "I purchased some property in the area and started becoming very interested in revitalization."

Ortbals said he decided shortly thereafter to go back to college and get a master's degree in urban affairs.

Two years after he received his master of arts degree from St. Louis University in 1980, Ortbals took a job as commercial district manager for the Cherokee shopping area in South

St. Louis. He is currently employed there.

Ortbals said his first efforts in revitalizing the city will be in the downtown area.

"I THINK EVERYONE agrees the downtown is the top priority," he said.

Ortbals said he will begin by studying what shops are downtown and what types of shops people would like to see downtown.

"I'll be pulling together all of the information I can get," he said. "I'll conduct shoppers' surveys, to see where people are shopping for goods. I'll do a demographic study of the age groups, income levels and locations of residents."

"ONCE I HAVE this information, I'll put together a proposed program for development."

Ortbals hopes to conduct a study of the feasibility of revitalization of buildings versus tearing down old buildings and constructing new ones.

He said he has no plans for devising a standard for downtown structures, like the Alpine Village concept that is being used in Madison.

"There will be no particular pattern or standard to the buildings," he said. "I'm not in favor of tying people into a specific look."

Ortbals said that, if anything, he leans more toward a concept of restoring a building to its natural state.

"I LIKE TO SEE buildings restored to what they were meant to be in the beginning," he said. "Older buildings were built with much care and attention to detail."

Ortbals said he and his family will remain living at their St. Louis residence for the first year of his job.

He said after that time he will meet with the city and the Chamber of Commerce and may move here then.

Ortbals and his wife, Mary Beth, have two children.

Boxcar homes planned, building permit issued

VENICE—An unusual concept in housing created by "fusing" railroad boxcars together was presented to the City Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

Approved was a building permit allowing conversion of two boxcars into a two- or three-bedroom housing unit at 1508 Market St. The idea is not unique, Mayor Tyrone Echols said; he reported a finished unit, constructed in the same manner, may be seen in Edwardsville.

"FUSING" OR JOINING together two railroad boxcars, placed side by side, forms the basic shell of the unit, it was learned.

A permit to start electrical installation at the site was granted earlier, and some preliminary work was taking place there Thursday.

Plans and detailed specifications relating to the proposed structure, prepared by Trus Joist Corp. of St. Louis, were submitted with the permit application.

THE APPLICANT was listed as Aluri Truck Leasing Co., 1601 Market St., Madison. Telephone service at that address is shared by Illinois Pacific Coast Transport Inc. and East Side Truck and Trailer Repairs, Inc.

They have cleared out most of the area around there and it looks a lot better than it did before," Echols reported to the aldermen. He was speaking of the firm which is constructing the modular-type dwelling on vacant double lots.

"At least now, there are no rats around," the mayor added.

Gerald Moss of Madison, owner of the IPC trucking company, was working at the building site Thursday, an employee said.

ONE ARCHITECT'S sketch gives the dimensions of a basic housing unit as 20 feet 9 inches wide by 59 feet-plus in length.

The detailed floor plan shows three bedrooms, each 14x9 feet, a living room, 24x9 feet, a kitchen 12x9 feet, and utility and storage rooms.

Diagrams for a two-bedroom unit illustrate a great room, 26x9 feet, plus a 14x9 dining area, a 12x9 kitchen, and utility and storage areas.

THE SIX-ROOM structure being fabricated in Venice will be set on a concrete slab and piers, the permit states.

A property owner in the area where the construction is taking place apparently objected to the project and two weeks ago talked informally with the mayor, stating his misgivings.

"I suggested that he go up to Ed-

MADISON—Mexico City's earthquake hasn't shaken Terry Parker.

With 25 pleas in hand, his resolve is firm. He's working the long hours it takes at his ham radio to reach fellow operators in the ravaged city.

The pleas are from Metro-East and St. Louis area persons who want to know their families are not among the more than 3,000 killed.

It's a tough task, but Terry and his wife, Kathy, know how to make the most of tough situations.

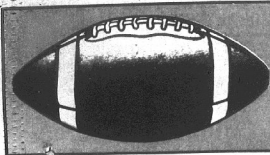

When persons phone for information, Kathy takes messages in braille. She is careful to feel for the top step leading down to the basement.

Terry is at the radio to take the message in the tiny basement room. With the help of an audio frequency identifier, he finds the spectrum to reach Mexico City.

"We're the first married, blind, extra-class couple," said Kathy. With the classification, the Parkers can use all ham radio frequencies.

But classification permission isn't enough to get answers out of Mexico

Spy dust not big surprise

WASHINGTON — CIA insiders are amazed at suggestions that the KGB's use of "spy dust" to track U.S. diplomats in Moscow and Leningrad came as a surprise to American counterespionage experts. After all, they point out, one of the CIA's most valuable "moles" inside Soviet intelligence was probably unmasked by the chemical and executed — in 1959.

The CIA didn't learn how the Soviet agent was caught until 1964, when a KGB defector told them. But 60 years seems like time enough to caution the shock that has been expressed by Reagan administration and former CIA officials over the "spy dust" report.

The chemical at the center of the latest superpower dust-up is nitrophenylpentadecanol, or NPPD. When transferred onto the skin from, say, a car steering wheel, it will continue to be spread — via a handshake with a clandestine to the doorknob of the clandestine's apartment — until it is treated by the KGB with ether chemicals and becomes fluorescent.

The administration charged that NPPD can cause cancer, thus adding responsibility to the charge of KGB sneakiness. It was charged that the dust had been detected several times from 1978 to 1982, when it was used against U.S. diplomats has increased greatly since May.

Yet Adm. Stanfield Turner, director of the CIA from 1977 to 1981, said he'd never heard of NPPD. A similar response came from Michael Tamm, who was U.S. ambassador in Moscow from 1976 to 1979.

Both men should have been familiar with the top secret files on the case of the mole known as Col. Popov, which was both a triumph and tragedy for the CIA. Here's the story:

Popov was an officer of the GRU, Soviet military intelligence, stationed in Vienna in 1953 when he volunteered to provide information to the CIA. When he was transferred to East Berlin, he continued to pass secrets to the CIA, through a case officer named George Kivalter.

Even after he returned to Moscow, Popov provided important intelligence to the CIA through Russell Langelle, an intelligence officer working under diplomatic cover. On Oct. 16, 1959, while exchanging a note on a Moscow bus, Langelle and Langelle were arrested by the KGB.

Langelle was interrogated and kicked out of the country. Popov was executed.

It wasn't until 1964, when KGB Maj. Yuri Nosenko defected in Geneva, that the CIA learned how the KGB may have uncovered Popov's treachery. Among the wealth of information Nosenko gave to his debriefers was the disclosure that Popov had been caught through the use of a chemical.

Nosenko disclosed that the chemical used, but said that Langelle's Russian maid put some on the diplomat's shoes, and the KGB, using a stiffer dog, tracked Langelle to a mailbox where the police found a note he had mailed to Popov.

Asked about the similarities between the spy dust of 1959 and today, Kivalter, the CIA case officer who grew in office, He asked the Federal Elections Commission whether he could properly spend campaign funds for a tuxedo he planned to wear to political functions. In response, the commission noted that members who were in Congress before Jan. 9, 1980, can spend their campaign funds any way they choose and gave Clay its approval.

Prior to 1982, members of Congress could order as many copies of their official photographs as they wanted. Free. Senators were asked for as many as 10,000 free prints every year. Then the House Administration Committee began charging for every photograph after the first five, and the demand plummeted. Last year, the House doorkeeper's office netted only $5,600 from the purchase of extra prints.

When Rep. Vic Fazio, D-Calif., asked House Sergeant-at-Arms Jack Russ why five new Capitol Guide Service employees were needed, he got this remarkable reply: "I can't tell you what the job is these people do in the service. Constituents come to the Capitol. These are the only officials they might see. So it's imperative that we pay them adequately and keep them well trained, and that they have the proper respect of the Congress."

SEMANITIC HARDBALL: The November summit meeting between President Reagan and Soviet boss Mikhail Gorbachev hasn't softened the rhetoric of U.S. Information Director Charles Z. Wick. He recently informed the National Council of World Affairs that the United States and the Soviet Union are at war — engaged in a "war of ideas." Wick boasted of the mighty arsenal at his disposal, an implied Valentin Vladimirovich Marti and the global television network he created. Still, he complained, the Soviets outstrip his agency.

Alarm system serves public

I totally disagree with the findings of the report done by the auditors for the City of Madison's Alarm Service Fund.

Besides salaries, they have listed in their report monies spent for materials and supplies, $15,022; repairs and maintenance, $40,224; auto expense, $3,109; and other costs, $348, for a total of $64,787.

The figures I have indicate that not including salaries, there were $1,137 for vehicle repairs, $181 for building repairs, $612 for telephone, $5,008 for computer and terminal repairs, and $26,563 for alarm installation and maintenance.

Of this, $1,000 was used for an alarm system for the city dog pound, $500 for office expense, $4,600 for vehicle purchase, $2,400 for gasoline and $23,500 which was used to complete the cable system that was sold for $15,000.

That's a total of $64,481, but remember that includes monies to complete the cable system.

Now let me explain some of the duties of the Alarm Department and its personnel.

First of all, they maintained 135 business and school alarms that paid for service; six alarms in city-owned buildings; 22 home alarms that pay to be on the alarm computer; and 450 sensors that are installed and maintained free of charge.

The city grossed $48,054 from the alarm system that revenue was increased this year because the new system will be in full operation.

The servicemen also did all maintenance on city buildings including the Shopping Center.

When the new administration took office, the Alarm Department servicemen were told not to do any more work on city buildings or in-stall any more alarms. They were just to do a minimum amount of service work and to look busy.

I know there are a number of businesses and homes wanting systems installed but cannot get them.

If the alarm servicemen were allowed to replace a damaged line conditioner, and if the necessary maintenance was done on the alarm computer, there's a good chance it would not have been out of service.

The city at this time does not have a person trained to service and maintain the system, either.

There was due to be installed this year a back-up system and an uninterruptible power supply that was highly filtered for the alarm system.

Whenever work was done on an alarm system or one was replaced — some systems have been in for over 10 years — there was a service call slip filled out by the servicemen and placed in the subscriber's file.

Also in the report, it shows that the ambulance service fund was $18,001 over budget. Let me explain this.

There was a surplus in the fund at the time the new fire truck was purchased, so an $11,000 payment was made on the truck.

There were also two ambulance payments made that totaled approximately $9,000 and were reimbursed by Venice Township.

Taking these facts into account, the ambulance service actually operated below budget.

In the last few months, several people have contacted me about their ambulance bills because they were more than what they used to be.

The city started charging $12 for oxygen above the rate set by the City Council of $75. Also, the people are concerned that they are not getting the proper Medicare write-offs.

This practice started when the acting fire chief took over in May 1985. I think the Council should find out who gave the authority to increase the fees, and refund these fees back to the citizens, as they are there to provide a service, not to make money.

I made several attempts to meet with Mayor John Bellco after his election but before he took office. He always said that he would get back to me, but he never did.

There were important matters that needed to be discussed but never did.

After he took office, I made several attempts again to meet with him. I again got a negative response. I have not been contacted by anyone with his administration concerning the alarm service or ambulance services.

I will meet with Mr. Bellco at any time concerning city matters, as I feel it is important for the citizens of Madison to receive the best of services.

Earthquake recalls explosion

As this column was being written, a series of earthquakes had just struck Mexico, taking thousands of lives. Buildings had been toppled and hundreds of persons had been strangled inside.

The thoughts of many Quakers returned to Aug. 9, 1961, when The Nestle Company Inc. plant at that time an instant coffee production center — exploded. Remnants of a three-story section of the building and its equipment fell onto a parking lot, killing three workers and dazed employees. Three were covered entirely and out of sight.

It was 1 p.m. on a warm Wednesday when the blast occurred without warning. Police, firemen and other emergency personnel rushed to the vicinity of 21st and Adams streets.

Although they worked rapidly to help the injured and determine who was missing, it was impossible to complete the task that afternoon. A massive gathering was attracted and the area was cordoned off from the crowd.

With people beneath the rubble of the demolished plant, and anguish cries heard from below, a cautious approach was chosen. Rather than clearing the debris with machinery, it was decided to gently, gingerly move each piece of debris, each brick, each chunk of concrete, one at a time.

An "avalanche" had to be avoided. Reckless haste could have harmed those waiting to be rescued. Gradually, progress was made. A workman was found alive in the wreckage and was rushed away by ambulance. Six employees who had suffered injuries were treated at St. Elizabeth Medical center (then St. Elizabeth Hospital).

Columnists' club

Plant records accurately showed that not everyone had been accounted for. The search continued into the evening.

With the participation of volunteer industrial workers, construction craftsmen, utility crews, contractors and trucking companies, a highly-skilled, highly-motivated team was created almost instantaneously.

Lights were rigged to illuminate the site as darkness arrived. It would be hard to visualize a more dramatic scene and it was indelibly imprinted on many memories, 24 years later.

Giant bulldozers and tall cranes were assembled to help probe areas not yet searched from the growing mound of debris that had been painstakingly lifted and moved aside.

It began to rain, and the mid-summer heat was replaced by unexpectedly cool weather. Some began to shiver.

Lightning danced about, adding to the hazards. The man-made mound tain was still growing in height and shakiness. Everyone became soaked to the skin but ignored the rain and the electrical storm, each concentrating on his or her chore.

During the wee hours of the morning, a bomb was found. An hour and 16 1/2 hours after the explosion — a second bomb was located and the grim mission was over. Hopes that those missing somehow might have survived were dashed.

Local people, agencies, organizations and businesses "stood tall" during the long day and night. Although two fatalities occurred, the courageous, tireless actions of countless persons helped save a life and reduced the potential severity of the injuries.

The worldwide Nestle company knew it had found an uncommonly kind and unselfish community and showed its gratitude. It built new facilities and created the world's largest instant tea plant in a city better known for its heavy industry.

At the Press-Record/Journal office, when sirens sound on first-Tuesday mornings to test Emergency Services and Disaster Agency preparedness, we sometimes joke that "the Russians are coming."

If they ever do send soldiers hurtling down on this community, or if an earthquake tears buildings apart and traps victims beneath walls and roofs, survivors here will not have to ask what to do.

They'll bring willing hands and hearts and talents to the scene. They'll start the long journey back from the devastation, one step at a time.

Residents opposed to store's liquor license

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

VENICE — No license has yet been granted to operate a package liquor store or tavern on Fourth Street, Mayor Tyrone Echols assured a group of residents at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

"We have no legal grounds to stop a package liquor store going in there, unless you know something we don't know," the mayor said.

"WE HAVE ENOUGH taverns in town and we don't need anything else like that," Carolyn Wilson responded. She also cited traffic hazards at that location, with more trucks now using Fourth Street.

Consisting primarily of residents from the vicinity of Fourth and Hampden streets, the group appeared surprised to learn the council recently amended the liquor license ordinance, increasing the number of available licenses.

The amendment changing the number of permitted licenses from eight to 19 was passed May 14, 1985.

EQUAL SURPRISE was evident among some upon learning that Venice has no city zoning ordinance and that liquor licenses are not issued by the council, but are granted solely at the discretion of the mayor in his role as liquor commissioner.

"Rumors are circulating in the community that an individual already in the tavern and package liquor business wants to open a package liquor store in the 1000 block of Fourth Street, the residents said."

Pat Cox, who lives on Third Street and raised the question of zoning, was concerned about video games being placed in a package liquor store. If a license is approved, he said, "It is a residential area and we have a lot of children there. A place with video games attracts children," he said.

"BASICALLY, a package liquor store is different to having a lounge or a place with video games. It's more like a grocery store with people going inside to buy something and then leaving. Can you at least put a restriction on having video games in there?" she asked.

"It is easy enough for the council to say we won't have them, but we could be denying the man his rights. I don't want to tell you, so all I can say is that we will research it (legality) and let you know," Echols said.

"We already have granted one (package liquor) license and it wouldn't be right to deny another person one," the mayor said.

A LICENSE WAS granted to Adam's Market, a grocery store at 1001 Logan Ave., at the time the liquor license ordinance was amended in May.

All the responses failed to quell the concerns of the women and elicited a brief exchange between 4th Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. and Carolyn Wilson.

The latter cited conditions on Weaver Street, where two taverns are located. Complaints about gambling and drinking on the sidewalks are frequently heard at council meetings.

"I do not want that down here," Carolyn Wilson said.

"YOU DON'T WANT it there, but it's all right at the north end of town," Valentine said. "No, when they shoot craps and drink outside you close that one, too," she answered.

Valentine and 1st Ward Alderman Phil Daniels were the only two council members who voted against increasing the number of liquor licenses in May, a fact the alderman did not mention during the exchange.

The women said they planned to circulate petitions against the issuance of a liquor license, especially if video games are proposed, and possibly urge the council to rescind its licensing amendment.

"I, too, am concerned about a residential area and if you circulate petitions bring them into the mayor," 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin said.

"There are always ways to stop it, even if you get a license. It's not too hard," he added.

Crider still sees potential problem

By DAVE WHALEY

GRANITE CITY — Robert Crider is sticking with his contention that Ruth Lahr is an early retiree from the school district.

Crider responded to comments by Lahr in Thursday's Press-Record that she was not an early retiree, and therefore her name should not be removed from the Nov. 5 ballot.

Crider contended that since Lahr was an early retiree from the district and was receiving benefits under that plan, she should not be on the ballot because of a section of the school code that forbids board members from having a contract with the district.

Lahr received a letter from the district in 1982 clarifying her coverage under the district's early retirement insurance plan. The plan is provided for persons electing early retirement between the ages of 55 and 65.

"CONTINUED PARTICIPATION in the district's self-insured health benefit plan and coverage under the group life insurance plan will be provided without cost until you attain the age of 65," the letter said.

"Benefits under the plan will be the same as those provided active employees, including existing dependent coverage."

Lahr retired in 1983 at age 58. She said she is not an early retiree due to guidelines in the Teachers' Retirement Manual of the State of Illinois.

"Mrs. Lahr voted to terminate the benefits from that plan for all future employees in a vote two years ago," Crider said. "I think the least she could have done was abstain from that vote."

CRIDER SAID HE would have no further comment on the matter until an opinion has come down from the Illinois attorney general's office.

"We think there is a potential problem here, and we just wanted it checked out," he said.

The opinion from the attorney general is expected within two weeks.

MESD Board balks at liability insurance costs

GRANITE CITY — Higher premium costs may lead the Metro-East Sanitary District to either self-insure or revamp its insurance coverage.

The district's general liability insurance policy expired this month. Renewing the coverage would cost the district $48,000, it was related during Wednesday's MESD Board meeting.

FIGURES COMPILED by the MESD staff show the district paid $11,000 for general liability insurance coverage in 1981-82. The premiums since then have steadily increased.

Meanwhile, the district has received a total of $23,142 in general liability claims since 1981.

Executive Director Shang Greathouse also noted the district's vehicle insurance cost $8,000 for 31 vehicles in 1981-82. This year, the district paid $31,000 to insure 28 vehicles. The value of all of those vehicles, except two, has depreciated, Greathouse said.

THE DEDUCTIBLE on the general liability insurance also has increased, it was noted. The deductible was increased from $250 to $1,000 in 1982 because of equipment thefts and vandalism during the period.

The district's general liability insurance, which covers lawsuits and damage to equipment, is carried by United National Insurance. Edward English Jr., insurance broker at Charles L. Crane Agency Co. in St.

Louis, is the district's insurance agent.

He told MESD commissioners they should consider the amount of protection they are buying, and not the amount of claims they have received when considering insurance coverage.

"INSURANCE is basically protection against the big claim," Edward English Sr. added. He also noted the financial difficulties insurance companies are now experiencing.

In the state of Illinois, for every $100 collected in premiums in 1984, insurance companies paid out $150, he said.

But Greathouse said the district could not afford the higher premiums.

"I'M NOT PAYING $150,000 to insurance companies because if I do that, I don't have the money to take the dirt out of the ditches. We're going to have to take this thing apart and look at it. Maybe we'll self-insure or maybe we won't insure at all," he said.

Edward English Jr. suggested the district's insurance policies be reviewed to see if the coverage could be reduced and the deductible raised.

"Is it necessary to insure for $500,000 coverage? Can you go with $250,000? Do you need comprehensive and collision on your trucks?" he asked.

"I THINK dropping all your insurance coverage is a mistake."

Let's look at lowering your coverage. I think you're lucky you can get insurance," English said.

Parents will go to Coolidge Jr. High

The administration of Coolidge Junior High School has asked that parents go to the school on Friday, Sept. 27, for an informal get-acquainted meeting.

The topic will be adjustment to junior high school, including discussion of the new student handbook.

"We would like to increase the lines of communication, and hope to meet as many parents as possible."

Coffee will be served and parents will be encouraged to openly discuss their interests and to ask questions. Principal Mike Sikora said.

The meeting will be held at 9 a.m. Sept. 27 in the Coolidge cafeteria.

Chouteau completes ambulance pact

By RACHEL NEWSOME
A new contract between Campbell Ambulance Service and Chouteau Township was approved at Monday's meeting.

Chouteau trustees signed a contract with Campbell at the May 6 meeting. That contract, however, was misplaced by Campbell and Chouteau had not received a copy.

"This contract is basically the same as the other one," said Supervisor Morris Miles.

THE AGREEMENT states all residents are responsible to pay for services rendered. If payment is ignored, Campbell will notify Chouteau officials, allowing them to take legal action. If payment is not obtainable, the responsibility becomes the township's.

THE BOARD ALSO approved a $16 rate increase on the highway department's insurance policy for a flatbed truck.

A request from Parents for Special Education to use the township's hall one night per week for an indefinite period was denied.

The board decided not to "tie up the room" one night a week. If the group would plan an activity for one night only, the township would welcome the request, said Clerk Pat Polley.

TAX COLLECTOR Mike Johnson reported he collected over $1 million of the more than $2 million owed in real estate taxes.

"I will have a ledger sheet for you to look at, at the next meeting I attend," he told the board.

Pontoon Lioness Club installs

Lioness LaVerne Malzynski was installed as president of the Pontoon Beach Lioness Club at the ninth annual installation dinner.

District I-G Governor Clay Brieahan of the Edwardsville Lions Club administered the oath of office to the president and others elected for the forthcoming year.

They included Linda Leleniewski, vice president, Kelley Papp recording secretary, Ike Lipscomb corresponding secretary, Sylvia Theis treasurer, Lioness tamer Laura Papp, Lioness tail twister Ada Conklin and directors Nancy Ballew, Charlotte Minks and Mary Pieper.

Lynn Votoupal, retiring president, automatically became a member of the board of directors for the ensuing year.

Lioness Charlotte Minks was chosen by secret ballot as "Lioness of the Year" and was presented with a plaque and bouquet of roses for her service to the club during the year.

Lioness Gene Jordan, deputy district governor, Edwardsville, installed new Lioness members Jane Moore, Cindy Burgess, Judy Davis and Leigh Ann Rayoum.

Cheese distributed this week

Officials in Chouteau and Venice townships and the Salvation Army have announced they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include processed cheese, butter, rice, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour.

THE RICE, HONEY, CORNMEAL, dry milk and flour are all in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis by ticket number received at the door.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese.

THEY MUST BE the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number, and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the guidelines.

Recipients are to bring some proof of residency other than a driver's license.

An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card is adequate, officials said.

MONTHLY INCOME guidelines are as follows: one-person family $547; two in the family, $735; three persons, $923; four persons, $1,110; five persons, $1,300; six persons, $1,485; seven persons, $1,675; eight persons, $1,860; and $188 for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 25, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697a N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Due to a change in the trucking company and a new delivery schedule, the doors will not be open until 8 a.m.

VENICE TOWNSHIP will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 26, at Engelbert Hall, 101 Street and Washington Avenue Madison. Township officials note there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, sex, creed or national origin.

Officials warn that it is not recommended to give money to children under 18 months old.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 26.

Fall movie series begins at Wildey Arts Center Friday

The Wildey Arts Center in Edwardsville began a 12-week fall movie series recently. "The name of the series is 'All About Eve,' starring Bette Davis in the role of an aging Broadway actress. 'Singin' in the Rain,' starring Gene Kelly, Donald O'Connor and Debbie Reynolds; the American classic, 'The Grapes of Wrath,' with Henry Fonda, based on John Steinbeck's Depression-era novel; 'West Side Story,' and a special edition, the 1938 MGM movie, 'Love Affairs Andy Hardy,' which features a young Mickey Rooney, a 17-year-old blonde named Lana Turner and a 15-year-old with a mesmerizing singing voice named Judy Garland.

The series of movies for adults will be shown at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and, for the first time, the Wildey Arts Center is introducing a 2 p.m. Saturday matinee for the same movies. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students, children and senior citizens.

Also for the first time, the Wildey Arts Center is introducing a bonus discount for the adult series. Anyone who appears at the theater wearing an article of clothing with the Wildey Arts Center logo on it will receive $1 off the admission price.

'Pane Game' winner to be named at garden

The name of the winner of the "Pane Game," the Missouri Botanical Garden's contest to guess the number of plexiglass panes in the Climatron's dome, will be announced during the 25th anniversary celebration for the greenhouse on Sunday, Oct. 13.

Visitors to Shaw's Garden until Oct. 1 can register to win the grand prize or four smaller prizes by filling out entry blanks in the Climatron.

The grand prize is a family dinner with a retail value of $119 donated by the May Co.

Four $25 gift certificates to the Then, for each individual film in the adult series, there also is a special bonus discount. Patrons who bring an umbrella with them for "Singin' in the Rain," for example, wear rhinestones to "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" or wear a black leather jacket for the Marlon Brando film, "On the Waterfront," will also receive $1 off the price of admission.

A 12-week Saturday matinee series at 2 p.m. for children is also scheduled. The children's series includes such movies as the 1944 classic "National Velvet," starring a 12-year-old Elizabeth Taylor; "Benji," "Annie," a mini-festival of five Three Stooges films; "Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory," and a movie that is scheduled for the pre-Halloween weekend and can only be appreciated on the big screen, "The Wizard of Oz." Tickets for the Saturday matinees is $1 for both children and adults.

Discount group tickets will be available for the first time in blocks of 25 for civic organizations, churches, school activity groups and area businesses. For information about group discount rates, people should call the Wildey office: 1-656-8014.

Garden Gate Shop will be awarded to registered entries with the next closest guesses. Only one entry per person is allowed. A selection to break any ties will be held prior to Oct. 13.

In addition to the winner's name being announced that Sunday, numerous activities are planned in celebration of the Climatron's 25 years of service to Shaw's Garden and St. Louis. The schedule includes a live exhibit of tropical snakes and in-depth slide shows, lectures and photo displays of the world's first geodesic dome greenhouse.

Literary programs begin Sept. 22

The second season of literary programs sponsored by the Washington University Libraries' Bookmark Society begins Sept. 22 with a presentation by Howard Nemerov, distinguished poet and professor of English at Washington University in St. Louis.

The program, which will feature a commentary and reading by Nemerov, will begin at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 22, in Edison Theater, Mallinckrodt Center. In conjunction with the program, an exhibit of the poet's work will be featured in the Special Collections area on level five of Old Library. The display includes Nemerov's manuscripts, poetry worksheets, correspondence and published works.

Nemerov's collection of 18 books of poetry, 13 works of criticism and three novels has brought him many literary honors and awards. In 1978, his "Collected Poems" won the dual honor of the National Book Award and the Pulitzer Prize.

Hartigan praises action by county

Twenty-one indictments returned in Madison County against five persons are being praised by Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan.

Conspiracy, theft of over $300 value and attempted theft are alleged in five consumer fraud cases. Hartigan's staff is prosecuting the cases.

The indictments were returned by a grand jury convened at Hartigan's request by State's Attorney Dick Allen. Bond has been set by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill in amounts ranging from $10,000 to $50,000.

Those indicted are accused of defrauding six Madison County families in a heating and air conditioning scheme, Hartigan explained. Consumers were told their heating and cooling units were defective, were safety hazards and could cause loss of life unless replaced immediately.

In one case, a 70-year-old woman living with and caring for her invalid 91-year-old mother was targeted," Hartigan said. "These two elderly, helpless women needlessly paid for a new furnace out of their meager Social Security checks."

"And the furnace — which was not needed — was priced twice as high as what a reputable firm estimated its value to be," Hartigan continued. "Six of the indictments were handed down on that case alone."

"Heartless preying upon the elderly simply must not be tolerated in Illinois."

Chris Held, assistant attorney general in the Consumer Protection Division, is prosecuting the case with assistance from Dennis Orsey, attorney in charge of Hartigan's Granite City regional office. The case was brought before the grand jury following a four-month investigation by the attorney general's Investigations Division.

Two charged with burglary, prowling

Two men were arrested in the 1800 block of Cleveland Blvd. Sept. 14 and charged with prowling and burglary. Jimmy D. Poe, 24, of 2615 W. 2nd St. and David H. Clark, 23, of 302 Wilson Park Lane were seen near an auto, allegedly belonging to one of the men.

They were reportedly seen near another vehicle prior to the arrival of officers. The two were arrested for prowling and Clark was charged with having no valid vehicle registration.

Clark's car was towed. Items in it are said to have matched items missing from a jeep that was burglarized while parked near 19th Street and Cleveland Blvd. The two were then charged with burglary.

Bail was set at $4,002 cash for each.

INJURED AS MOTORCYCLE CRASHES INTO BARRICADE

Timothy Brown, 19, of 2041 Park Ave. was injured after crashing through a barricade on 29th Street on his motorcycle Sept. 17. He was headed west on 29th Street at normal speed and apparently did not see barricades put up for excavation work at Lee Street. He went through the barricades, lost control and was thrown from his motorcycle.

Brown crashed into a speed limit sign about 10 feet from where the motorcycle lay. He was in good condition later last week at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Witnesses said barricade lights were flashing but were very dim. VCR TAKEN IN BURGLARY

Damage, assault charges are filed

Assault and property damage charges were filed against Joseph W. Burgoon, 21, of 30 Georgetown Drive, Pontonville, charged Sept. 14 at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment and was admitted.

Police had gone to the home of Daniel W. Guenther, 1323 Edwardsville Road, on a report of someone kicking at the front door and also displaying a weapon. Enroute to the scene, officers learned a man had left the area in a yellow pickup truck and Burgoon was picked up.

Guenther alleged being awakened by a man kicking the door. He grabbed the man at the door and a scuffle ensued, with Guenther hitting Burgoon, whom he recognized, and wrestling him to the ground.

Eddie W. Suydan also awoke due to the noise and broke up the fight, reports said. Burgoon allegedly threatened Guenther and ran outside toward a truck. Guenther left the house through a rear door.

A 16-year-old girl said she opened a back door and alleged Burgoon was standing there holding a double-barrel shotgun and yelling. Suydan also alleged seeing Burgoon with a gun.

GCBS STUDENT, 16, SENT TO COUNTY JUVENILE HOME

The alleged one tried to hide a clear plastic bag containing three hand-rolled cigarettes in a restroom stall. The bag was recovered and its contents were recorded as positive in a cannabis test.

DRIVER REPORTS MAN FIRES SHOTS AT TRUCK

Elmer Smith, a truck driver from Cape Girardeau, Mo., was asleep in the back of his tractor on the Steelhaulers' parking lot on Broadway, Venice, Sept. 11 when three men knocked on the window and asked if he had "another tire for them."

When Smith started his truck and began to leave, one of the men fired a weapon at his vehicle, hitting it twice. A projectile was recovered from the dashboard of the diesel cab, apparently from a shot which was fired through a window and caused damage. A bullet hole was detected in the vehicle's left front area.

A Third Street man called police at 4:48 p.m. to report the incident and said he was holding one of the suspects. Missing from the building were books, papers and miscellaneous supplies.

TWO ARRESTED AT GATEWAY
Keena Anderson, 22, St. Louis, and Yolanda Wells, 20, East St. Louis, were arrested at 3 a.m. Sept. 6 for

Madison School Board increases 1985-86 budget limit to $6.2 million

By RACHEL NEWSOME
MADISON — A public hearing on the budget for the 1985-86 fiscal year was held Thursday prior to a regularly scheduled School Board meeting.

Expected expenditures total $6,257,137, up $204,437 from 1984-85. John Falchett, superintendent of schools, reported no changes were made in the tentative budget enacted in mid-August.

The budget was approved by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting of the board.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board adopted a new physical education policy under the Illinois education reform act.

The policy states that students in grades 11 and 12 may request exemption from physical education classes for these reasons:

1. The student is determined to be participating in inter-scholastic athletics as certified by the appropriate district personnel.
2. THE STUDENT provides written evidence from an institution of higher education that "a specific course not included in existing local school minimum graduation standards is required for admission. The school district staff must verify that the student's present and proposed schedule will not permit completion of the needed course.
3. The student lacks sufficient course credit or one or more courses required by state statute or local school board policies for graduation. Students who have failed required courses, have transferred into the district with deficient credits or who lack credits due to other causes will be eligible to apply for this exemption.

Approvals of exemption will be for one semester only, but may be renewed for additional semesters.

OTHER APPROVALS by the board included the annual, "Send a Mouse To College" fundraiser in the Madison school system for the American Cancer Society. The Madison High School band received permission to sell a product (undetermined at this time) beginning Sept. 25 and for one week.

TCA Tigers were given permission to use the Louis Baer School gym for basketball practice, and Madison Middle School and High School special education classes were given permission to attend a Special Arts Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

wardsville and see the finished project and also told him to come up here (council meeting) tonight," Echols said.

The individual did not attend the council session to voice his objections.

THERE APPEARS to be little difference between using the refrigerated railroad cars to create a modular dwelling and placing a mobile home on the site, except the railroad cars will be better insulated, one observer commented.

Council members also approved building permits for George H. Rhodes, 633 Washington Ave., Venice, to construct a garage valued at $5,995, and to John R. Wise Jr. to place a five-room mobile home on a concrete slab at 1225 Oriole St.

The latter permit was granted providing all requirements are met, involving foundation work and tie-downs.

City, as Terry has found after long hours without success.

The few operators there are inundated with calls from hundreds of operators throughout the United States, and each operator can have a list of 30 or 30 persons they want found. Complicating matters is most of the hams in Mexico City do not speak English and do not have an interpreter.

After a long stint in the cramped radio room Friday night, Terry reached an operator in Mexico City who spoke English. But the operator had been taking messages and trying to help persons throughout the disaster. The man simply said he couldn't continue; then signed off.

"It's frustrating," Terry said. "You sit there for seven or eight hours and the guy just quits on you. So all you have is saddle sores for nothing."

Though phone service to Mexico City is out, Terry said local phone service there is working. When Terry gets through, he will give the ham operator the Mexican phone number of each person to be contacted. The ham will make calls and give Terry results.

Terry was visibly tired from 12 hours at the radio, managing it until midnight. He was back at it at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

"The adrenaline keeps me going," he said.

It's A Winner! GCHS tallies in win column with victory over Kahoks, 42-7

By GARY KING

GRANITE CITY — Entering Friday night's contest, the Granite City and Collinsville football teams were in similar situations. Both squads were looking for their first win of the season. Suffice it to say they were both very hungry.

"This is a game that will catapult either them or us into a state of confidence," said Warrior coach Ron Yates prior to the matchup.

The Warriors put forth their best effort thus far in the season as they blasted the Kahoks by a score of 42-7.

Granite City wasted little time getting on the board. Following a Kahok punt, the Warriors took their first possession of the evening and marched 43 yards for the first score of the ballgame. The nine-play drive was capped when Fred Becker dove into the endzone from the one yard line.

Following an interception by Warrior Dave Gushieff deep in Kahok territory, the potent Granite City offense struck again. On only the third play of the drive quarterback Tim Hogan fired a pass to Becker who raced 32 yards for his second touchdown of the evening.

After Warrior Pat Griffith picked off a Collinsville pass at the Kahok 25, Granite City marched in for their third score of the contest. This time it was the Hogan-to-Hogan combination who did the damage as Tim Hogan rifled a shot to brother Jamie from six yards out.

The Kahoks managed their only points of the contest after an errant snap eluded Warrior punter Steve Davis who was sacked at his own 11 yard line. On the next play Kahok Jim Merrifield scampered over right tackle into the endzone for the lone Collinsville touchdown.

It appeared that Collinsville was about to make a game of it when they drove to the Warrior 10-yard line midway through the second quarter. However, after linebacker Tom Schneck recovered a Kahok fumble on the Warrior nine yard line, Granite City put together their longest drive of the evening.

Behind the strong rushing of fullback Ronny Owens, the Warriors marched 89 yards in eight plays for the fourth Warrior touchdown. The drive was climaxed when Owens darted 21 yards into the endzone.

The Hogan-to-Hogan combination connected again from five yards to give the Warriors a 35-7 halftime lead.

The final score of the evening came late in the fourth quarter when sophomore Terry Stanley sprinted 49 yards for his first varsity touchdown.

A much relieved and exuberant Yates spoke highly of his team's performance after the game.

"The guys played very well tonight. I was happy with the performance of our offensive line, anytime you get 239 yards of offense you know something is being done right."

"If you take away the bad snap on the punt, I seriously doubt Collinsville would have scored. It was a big win for our program," said Yates.

Collinsville's inability to sustain a drive was caused by the Warrior secondary. The Granite City defensive backs intercepted six of the 12 passes the Kahoks attempted.

Four of the Warrior interceptions belonged to senior tri-captain Dave Gushieff. Gushieff was quick to praise defensive coordinator Bob Stegemeyer for making his heroics possible.

"Coach Stegemeyer told me to just play my game and the ball would come right to me. We really owned their receivers all night," said Gushieff.

As the players filed out off the field, they had a different look about them. They had just been catapulted into confidence.

but only by a sloppy decision. Madison prevailed 14-0 in a contest where the two teams traded turnovers instead of offensive led and rights.

In a first half that saw the Trojans muster only 22 yards of offense while coughing up three fumbles, Madison's defense accounted for the game's first touchdown.

On the final play prior to intermission, Central over the ball at the Madison 30 and set up in field goal formation. Holder Greg Ratemann took the snap and rolled right, under heavy pressure from the Trojans' line. Ratemann's wobbler was gathered in by Madison's Darnell Marshall, who then raced 75 yards to paydirt as the halftime buzzer sounded. Marshall's two-point conversion pass to tight end Reggie

Madison Now 3-0 Trojans battle by Breese Cougars 14-0

By JAMES BLASINGAME

BRESEE — The Madison High School football Trojans and the Breese Central Cougars hooked up in something of a preliminary bout to the Holmes-Spinks event on Saturday night.

Madison entered the ring as the slugger, having knocked out its two previous opponents by 32-2 and 40-0 scores. The Trojans pack a powerful offensive punch that can strike at any moment and coldcock their competitors.

Central, on the other hand, came in as the boxer. The Cougars brought an unimpressive 0-3 record into the fight, but their defeats were by narrow margins against three reputable contenders. Central's fight plan was to avoid the big blow and try to go the distance, hoping to pull out a victory near the end of the contest.

Well, the slugger was victorious.

but only by a sloppy decision. Madison prevailed 14-0 in a contest where the two teams traded turnovers instead of offensive led and rights.

In a first half that saw the Trojans muster only 22 yards of offense while coughing up three fumbles, Madison's defense accounted for the game's first touchdown.
